LOCAL WOOD SELLER NICKED BY BUZZ SAW

It doesn't pay to monkey with a buzz-naw. Take it from Gus Wolter, Carmel wood dealer-he knows. Last week, while cutting wood, two fingers of his left hand came in contact with the saw and were slightly injured. "Boy, talk about luck! I only nicked the tips." says Gus.

Gus was watching someone crank a Model T and forgot he was sawing wood.

The child also died.

ported as Jesse L. Losky's most important film in a career replete with important films, comes to the Carmel Theatre beginning, Sunday and is scheduled for a ky's third production as a producer under the Fox banner and marks a high point in the screen achievements of this veteran.

The story of the film cannot be separated from the method in which it is told. Through a new medium evolved by Lasky, the film reveals the important events in the life of a man who rises from the most humble of beginnings to a position of great power and influence. It shows his change from a simple young man without any education to a figure THE CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB of national importance with his life a complicated affair of manifold interests and great wealth. Owing to the press of other work, Bruce Fox, who has been teaching a short story class in Monterey and in Carmel, will discontinue his weekly visits.

Mr. Fox writes: "I am really sorry about this, for there is considerable talent in your little town and I'm sure many of the persons whom I met will eventually make good in this difficult writing business. It is a fact that the Carmel Red Cross receives no money from any organization. For this reason I urge you to give liberally to the Carmel Red Cross in order that we may provide for our own Carmel people who need assistance. MYRTLE LEONARD WILL SING HERE NOVEMBER 11

Myrtle Leonard, contralto with the San Francisco Opera company, will appear at the Denny-Watrous Gallery November 11th.

Miss Leonard's singing is known by many Carmel people and music lovers are looking forward to the treat of having her in this city.

Critics from the largest cities throughout the United States acclaim Miss Leonard as an artist of the first water. Madame Schumann Heink said: "It is the only real contralto voice I have heard." She always refers to Miss Leonard as "the other contralto."

It is probable that some here will recall Miss Leonard as having won the Schubert Memorial contest, the reward being a solo appearance with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra and a recital engagement at the Midwick

Country Club in Pasadena.

OLD MISSION CHURCH

INDEPENDENT PARISH

After more than a hundred years of being connected with the Monterey church, the Old Mission Church of Carmel has been made an independent parish, by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Scher, with the new pastor, Rev. Father ing equipment. Michael O'Connell in charge.

At a meeting in Serra Crespi ed by the new pastor and the ladies of the Old Mission Guild. plans were made for social activities to be held in the near future, the first occasion to be a card party held Tuesday, November 7.

Father O'Connell congratulated the church on having such a fine social hull, stating that it was the best he had seen any place in the state and he is anxious that it be

GOLDEN BOUGH PLAYERS GAVE GOOD PERFORMANCE

Although the play by the Golden Bough Players under the direction of Edward Kuster passed Carmel Employment Commission into history with its third perattention was called to the fact formance last Saturday night, Carmel folk are still speaking of the production.

"Art and Mrs. Bottle" was more in the way of entertainment than the name suggested, in fact, the only objections have been to the name itself, it being considinadequate in picturing the kind of play that was being given.

The cast was a small one but each one deserves individual mention for characterization and a professional air. Albert Van RESOLVED, that the Employ- Houtte as the frascible but loveable, father; Georgia Wapple as the erring but forgiven mother; Arthur Hately, the fickle lover; Yvonne Castle and Philip Reamer, the discontented young folk; Edwina Pinkham as the model; Tom Crosthwaits as the rejected suitor and Oudine Houser as the play missed a treat. Support of these Golden Bough Players' productions means that for a grand time on November you are giving your support to 10th when they will hold their keeping the little theatre movement and the legitimate stage alive in this section of the world.

Edward Kuster deserves your support. He has not only spent a great deal of time on theatrical interests here but has invested a great amount of money. It will pay us who live in Carmel to bear this in mind.

MRS. KENDALL GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE ber 19.

Mrs. Edna Kendall who was given until November first to decide between a $20 fine or a tenday jail sentence, was given the sentence to be suspended on good behaviour.

RALPH JAMES OPENS NEW ART STUDIO

So that Carmel people need not go over the hill when they desire sign painting, Ralph James has opened up a comercial art studio on Ocean near Mission.

Ralph is a Carmel boy and does not have to learn the art designs that are suitable to the traditions of this city. He is doing sime splendid work as is evidenced by the new signs which are appearing throughout the business section,

CHEST DRIVE SOON INTERESTING CARMEL

Interesting things about Cormel

In our wanderings, about the town we discovered a real homey Httle shop. There is something sodistinctive and different about it that one wishes to call again and again. Maybe it is because you feel at home as soon as you cross the threshold.

Once you are inside "The Little Shop in the Little House" many a surprise awaits you. You are greeted with a hearty and cheery welcome by Mrs. Caroline Edwards, the proprietor. It is delightful to chat with her. She is so interesting and charming that you will certainly call again, Also there are so many things to see that it is worthwhile to visit this unique little shop.

This newest of shops in Carmel is located on Lincoln between Fifth and Sixth.

You'll be surprised to find a Monterey place of business in Inin justified by the fact that Colonel and Mrs. Jadovskoy belong this little city where they established their Russian Tea Room and later, added their Gift Shop.

But, if you haven't dropped in at the Monterey branch of the Tea Shop, you have missed something. A huge samovar heats the low-ceilinged room to a comfortable temperature, and the lighting is so arranged that one feels themselves in a farm house and while you may never have been in Russia, you can imagine in three troups which meet three a well-to-do peasant family gathered around their home for the evening.

Russian decorations and bright colors, and a cupboard containing colorful pottery, help complete a very pleasant picture.

LAW

"Nevada has a great law. When they vote on a bond issue or have two ballots. One is for property owners and one is for non-property owners, and to pass it has to have a majority of both."

The above is taken from a late ly published article of Wil

It behoves some members of the state legislature, who wishes to acquire everlasting fame and the undying thanks of long suffering bond paying property owners to use his best efforts and endeavor to have the Nevada law

For instance: An individual with his family and belongings bundled in an auto, drives into town, locates in a cheap house, secures work at his trade if he has one and registeres as a voter. When an election is to be held a bond issue on the ballot, he votes acceptance, work becomes scarce, packs his family in the auto and drives out of town, leaving the property owners holding the bag on the bond issue.

Numerous bonds are saddled on property owners and as a general rule, some private interests are the gainers, either by a commission or the disencumbrance of some undesirable property at a fancy figure.

MISCHA ELMAN THRILLS CARMEL IN RECITAL

By P. M.

In the very hub of that dear city, Vienna, at the head of the Graben stands the "Eisener Stock." This originally a wooden, not an iron, stick received from each newcomer to the city a nail driven deep into its core. This of course happened many driven by Maude Carroll, bearyears, even centuries ago, but never-the-less suggests a possible means of marking in an ineradicable manner the Great Ones who appear in our Carmel.

And so in imagination we drive another nail and still another for Mischa Elman and his supreme accompanist, Stanford Schlussel.

Did we possess the necessary we might now proceed to decomments, reflections, deflections, sarcasms, witticisms and other devices which are drawn from the bag of those all-knowwill again busy themselves with ing beings, the Music Commentators. However we scribes of this village have learned that humility is a virtue and so, bowing before genius, we append the program with we hope permissable addenda.

First a Handel Sonata played as Mischel Elman plays the classics. Then a Mozart Sonata played in suc hwise that only our imperfect ears prevented us from knowing that the gods themselves applauded. Next Concerto of Glazounow in which Mr. Schlussel attempted to replace seventynine of the eigthy members constituting a symphony orchestra. It is our belief that even a large concert grand piano cannot produce the volume attained by single violin in a cantabile passage. And although the remark overheard last night to the effect that Mr. Schlussel is probably the most musical man in the world is likely true, still, with only a diminutive piano we must confess that his problem in this number proved futile. So we are Edna Macey, 18, of Seattle, led on to wonder why Mr. Elman, chamber music form. Following these major works came a group of minor works, including the much played transposed Chopin Nocturne in which the mute plays the principal part. The diabolical (at least diabolically difficult) Ballade et Poloname of Vieuxtemps was followed by an encore, another and another encore ad infinitum.

And so Mr. Elman, Mr. Schlussel, Messers Wagner and Davis we thank you.

Oldtimers often tell us of A mustic den down by the sea Where bold men found a ledge of

JAPANESE DANCER AT

COMMUNITY THEATER

On Saturday night of next week another world figure will make an appearance in Carmel. At the Community Playhouse the celebrated Japanese dancer and mime, Michio Ito, with a company of six, every one of whom is herself a dancer of individual personal fame, will give the identical program which took the Eastern states by storm last season. The group supporting Ito is headed by Lillian Powell, who already has many admirers among such of our residents who have seen her own programs in New York.

The engagement of Michio Ito and his company will be the outstanding ensemble dance event of the Peninsula this year. Ito's production of the ballet from 'Prince Igor" at Hollywood bowl two years ago, with Molinari conthe Bowl season. His more recent "Pageant of Lights" as Pasadena Rose Bowl, in which more than two hundred dancers partici- Mrs. Julia Breinig. ated won him wide acclaim.

International artists who have been Ito's pupils include Ruth St. Denis, Gertrude Hoffman, Angna Enters, and many others. His fame rests equally upon his individual artistry as a dancer and as a creator of dances and ballets. A brilliant teacher and a supreme showman, the program which he is bringing to Carmel next week will crowd the Playhouse with dance lovers.

The music and settings used by Ito are beautiful and unusual and in themselves furnish an attraction which should not be missed by anyone interested in the progress of contemporary stage art. Special rates will be made for student groups and for family parties.
